"Dramatically set on a clifftop overlooking the Gulf of Valinco, in south-west Corsica, this stunning contemporary villa with infinity pool, gym and sweeping sea views, enjoys an enviable location just a short drive from the beach and the village of Propriano".

In a location as sumptuous as the architecture is inspirational, this light-filled villa up a quiet track lets the views do the talking. Thanks to picture windows throughout and the French doors in every bedroom, the sparkling waters of Corsica's Valinco Gulf are as much a part of the design as the refined minimalism and luxurious sense of space. An open-plan living-dining area and state-of-the-art kitchen occupy the upper level, along with two of the four bedrooms and wherever you sleep, the terrace or balcony outside allow you move from bed to unforgettable seascape in seconds, your first breath of fresh air in the morning full of the promise of a day on the beach – and you'll find a beautiful sandy coastline just a five-minute drive near the lovely 19th-century coastal town of Propriano.

For those who prefer not to neglect their fitness routine, there's a small gym on the lower level and the private infinity pool is perfect for a refreshing morning dip, although the uninterrupted beauty of the horizon may prove distracting! A small poolhouse with a shower and WC, fridge-freezer and ice-maker make it easy to spend all day in 'lounging about' mode, and if you pick up a few supplies from town, a leisurely barbecue has all the makings of an idyllic evening al fresco. Alternatively, make your way to Propriano where dinner and a stroll around the harbour rounds off a day in the sun perfectly.
