“A foodies paradise - La Maison de Village is perfectly located in the heart of one of Provence’s most unspoilt, charming villages”

This amazing old town house, set over 3 floors, in the ancient village of Goult, was once a working silk worm farm. Goult is a foodie's paradise with wonderful boulangerie, butchers, grocery store selling wonderful fresh, local produce, weekly market, the renowned Café de La Poste and some of the best restaurants in the area, all within a 2-minute walk from the house. There are also plenty of excellent wineries nearby to visit which we would be delighted to tell you more about.

The property is built around a spectacular central courtyard with private heated swimming pool and has been renovated to provide excellent traditional and Provençal accommodation throughout. The main house offers all amenities to its guests, with space to gather with family and friends, as well as quiet areas to relax by yourself. There are 2 bedrooms, an office area, a lounge area, media/games room, and even a small library. A fully equipped kitchen awaits your purchases from the local market and a dining area invites to enjoy regional delicacies in an authentic setting. There are two indoor dining areas: one by the kitchen and the other is in a dining room with a stone vaulted ceiling and grand fire-place. To perfect the Provençal experience, an amazing rooftop teak-floored terrace offers stunning views over the Luberon valley. In addition to the accommodation in the main house, the property offers four other bedrooms in three different annexes, each with private access. The annexes are spacious and comfortable and combine authentic features such as original stone floors and arched ceilings with Provençal furniture. They all wind around a little courtyard, where the pool patiently waits to cool you down after a long day exploring the surrounding Luberon valley.
